About Your Mentor

For over 36 years I have been going through a journey of entrepreneur with numerous setbacks, success & failures which was started when I was 18 years old. My approach is holistic because who you are, how you think and how you feel affect your business and financial outcomes.

After escaping 9-5 rat race business owners mostly take pride on living their own terms but after certain stage when it comes to create an impact, influence & build wealth for financial freedom they lose; they lose the game because they fail to take their system on auto pilot, they fail to scale their team, they fail to retain their core team members, they fail to work on a mission. It is a great win to escape a rat race but it is not the only win one should be looking for! They trap themselves into imbalance of work & life. At one side they lose revenues, on other side their team is not aligned with values, business becomes so much reactive in solving little problems rather creating an impact & influence or a dream with which they started their entrepreneurial journey.

Hi, my name is Shharad Vaghela & I am known for my insightful understanding of the connection between money, emotions and how work-life balance affect a person's ability to succeed financially in business.

If you are looking for holistic success, a success which feels like fulfilment with influence, impact & wealth I've developed a unique business coaching model to give you holistic growth, a growth which gives you financial freedom, quality time, work-life balance & a peace of mind.

My unique coaching approach combines my intuitive skills, science-based assessments, Neuro-Linguistic programming techniques, and over 21 years of business experience which helps my clients to reach their financial and business goals.

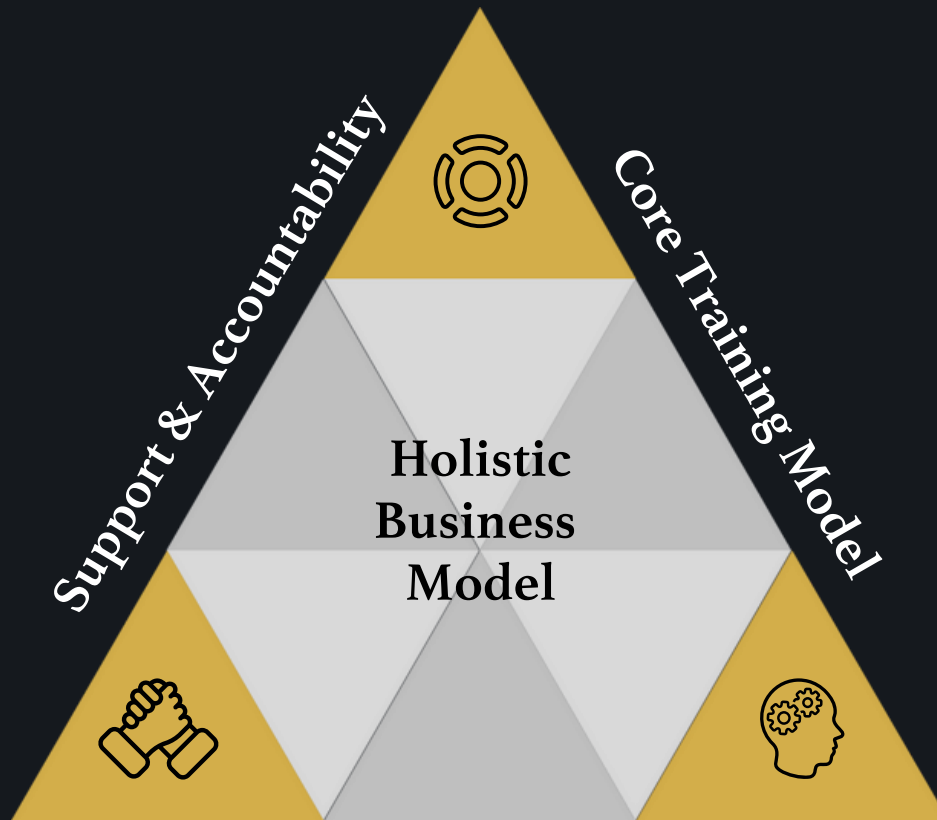

"I'm on a mission to help 1 lakh CEO's, business owners & entrepreneurs to become like 1% of successful people who creates time & wealth in their business with peace of mind by using NLP skills"

With this, I invite you to be part of my mission & allow me to help you in your entrepreneur journey which will shorten learning curve for building a strong business.

DEAR BUSINESS OWNER

I have been very fortunate to see a journey from bicycle to BMW & realize in my early days that:

Having a coach & mentor is the fastest way of growth & success! Many successful entrepreneurs, such as Mark Zuckerberg and Steve Jobs, had mentors. From my perspective, their businesses might not be where they are today without the mentorship they received.

According to the 2013 Executive Coaching Survey by Stanford University, nearly 80% of directors said their CEO is receptive to coaching. Moreover, following a survey of 200 small businesses, financial technology company Kabbage reported that 92% of small businesses said mentors directly impact growth and the survival of their businesses.

Understand that:

In today's world that is very dynamic- with so many strategies & tactics related to: marketing, sales, team building, growth, scaling, work-life balance, self-growth etc, a business owner can get confused about what is best for them. I have seen 100s of business owners trying things on their own, and failing- thus wasting a lot of time & money.

This is where my business coaching model comes in:

Helping you create a customized holistic business roadmap, a game-plan, one of the FASTEST WAY to help you reach your goals & live a life of freedom with wealth, time & family.
